

Finding information regarding a veteran at 306bg.us (updated 6/28/2020)

Start with Search Options: (the top tab on the left of the home page) is the go-to tool to find the majority of items on our site. Nevertheless, there are many documents and pictures are NOT indexed. All Russell Strong index cards (8,000+) of vets known to him are indexed as well as his correspondence files with vets. All Mission Reports and Missing Air Crew reports and Crew Photos (that we have) as well as hundreds of obits, Daily Bulletins and Special Orders are indexed. Search results may suggest other spellings known to be in our Data Base as WWII clerks & indexers made mistakes.

Via search or navigation to Education-Research/archives/Russell Strong Card File Take note of: period of Thurleigh service; position or job title; squadron; if a flyer: pilot &/or plane name & crew member names. Pay attention to when he reported, and any info about the crew he reported with, or if he was downed during the war, to the pilot's name, which is usually in parentheses after the date / mission of the downing.

Correspondence File. Relatively few 306th men's names have a Correspondence File. However, any man's name (even if he did not live thru the war) can be mentioned in another's Correspondence File – including helpful correspondence decades later with Russell Strong, possibly talking about where a fellow crew mate or 306th buddy came into the war from, or where he lived post-war. Thus, check for a Correspondence File in the name of (1) the vet in question, AND (2) EVERY crew-mate you can identify. We will have indexed vets mentioned in these Correspondence Files by 8/1/2020.

Try to Identify fellow crew members of your veteran of interest by looking in Card File AND:

(1) Education-Research/Photo Albums from WWII/Air Crew Photos: which are filed only by pilot surnames. Vets in the photos have been indexed and the albums existing by pilot names are no longer being updated. Some of the Air Crew photos were taken during their stateside crew training. Thus, even if a pilot died on his first mission from Thurleigh, when the crew he brought over was NOT flying with him, you can see on the photo's label, all the men who came over together. Check the Correspondence File for all those men's names.

(2) Educ-Research/archives/Orders, Special: (as of June 2020 all combat era files we have are indexed) In many of the Special Orders are lists of entire crews of men reporting-in. We do not have all of the Special Orders, but we have a lot of them. If you find crews listed, for whom we have no Air Crew photo, these can give you the names of crew-mates to check in the Correspondence File.

(3) Using Library tab from home page use your browser find function to search Squadron Combat Diaries and Strong's First Over Germany which can help you identify your vet's crew members and friends. Check dates on/around the time a man's Card says he reported to Thurleigh, most Diaries listed the men reporting to Thurleigh.

Echoes: Review the index of 1975-2000 echoes, there is a link on the Echoes page. All Echoes are on-line. Early issues have many lists of 306th men either as: (1) Found / Directories, for men having been found stateside & how to contact them -- thus giving you places to check re a man. (2) "Still looking for" - often indicating where the man had come from, pre-war. Be aware not all 306th men were ever found by long time secretary Russell Strong, or current researchers.

Obituaries: There is a link to a list of All men who died DURING 306th service in WWII at the TOP of Archives page. Please check your name of interest against that list; many of those men are buried in American Cemeteries abroad, or their names are listed on the Walls of the Missing at those cemeteries. If his name is listed there, be aware that the American Cemetery abroad (OR the US State to which his remains were sent) for MOST of these names are listed in 2 issues of the 306th Echoes newsletters: October 1997, and January 1998. "Combat Deaths" listing is concluded in that second issue, and that issue also contains a smaller listing of Other Deaths while abroad. [Be aware the Echoes listing of those cemeteries has some errors; checking online at the WWII Memorial Registry and/or at FindAGrave.com should also be done for any man who died abroad.] Use Search Options tab, clicking obit checkbox to look for an obit on our site. Be aware less than 1,000 are currently indexed as of June 2020.
